Please meet at 3:30 in Room 1 on Wednesday, September 3rd. We will hold two rounds of callbacks. The first will include: singing the first verse of “The Water Is Wide”, improvising dramatic moments from the play, and reading from ensemble/townspeople sides. We will release several of you after this round (likely around 5:30). Round two will consist of readings of sides from scenes with principal and supporting characters. This round will likely last until 7:30.

We can provide a room to do homework for anyone released after the first round who does not have flexible transportation.

Be prepared to perform with a generic Southern or Appalachian dialect.

Thank you all for your preparation and see you tomorrow!
